LEGAL DISCLAIMER

There are various ways to positively impact cognitive, literacy and physical performance. None of these methods will help everyone, with every condition in every situation. This includes The Learn2Learn Program™ by The P.A.T. Homeschool Academy.

The Learn2Learn Program™ by The P.A.T. Homeschool Academy can be viewed as basic “brain fitness” or “brain weight-lifting”. This program is safe for anyone as long as common sense precautions are followed. Children are supervised during program.

Our website (www.thepatacademy.com) provides testimonials from actual program users. These testimonials are from real people who have experienced the program but are not connected to or paid by the company. We do not claim or imply that you can expect to attain the same results as those who have made testimonials on our behalf. We can say with certainty that similar results will not occur unless the program is followed consistently and properly. We make every effort to present information here that is as honest and thorough as we can make it.

Do not mistake The Learn2Learn Program™ by The P.A.T. Homeschool Academy as a quick “fix”, a “miracle cure” or as an easy road to success, The Learn2Learn Program™ is a process. Each person has an optimum point of brain processing potential. This program attempts to make it easier for you to reach that optimum point. If you want to learn to play the piano or to make your body stronger through weight lifting, you need to correctly practice and exercise over an extended period of time those muscles that will enhance your performance. The same thing is true with The Learn2Learn Program™. Many users have reported immediate benefit after beginning the program but this may not be typical and is certainly not permanent without continued use. High achievement does not just happen on its own nor is success generally achieved in one large step but rather as the result of many small steps.

Our website (www.thepatacademy.com) represents an honest effort to share our insights and point of view as well as the experiences of others who have benefited from our program. No one knows exactly for whom or to what extent benefits will be derived by using The Learn2Learn Program™. Consequently, it is impossible for us to guarantee results.

It is my understanding:

1. That information obtained from The Learn2Learn Program™ by The P.A.T. Homeschool Academy is not intended to cure, diagnose, treat, or prevent disease, nor are they meant to replace any medical treatment or other therapy prescribed by my healthcare provider or physician.
2. As with any exercise or health-related program or activity, I should seek the advice of my physician or other qualified health professional before participating in any kind of program.
3. Although my child may have instantaneous results, The Learn2Learn Program™ is a process not a “quick-fix” “miracle cure” or “fix-it” program.
4. All resources provided by The Learn2Learn Program™ are for informational and educational purposes only.
5. The Learn2Learn Program™ makes no warranties or guarantees concerning any particular outcome, result, or improvement from participation in the program.
6. The Learn2Learn Program™ is not responsible for any direct, indirect, consequential, special, or other damages, including, but not limited to, economic loss, injury, or illness, that may result from participation in the program.
7. The testimonials contained in (www.thepatacademy.com) are from people who have actually worked with The Learn2Learn Program™.
